Another suspicious CV Village fire

by Mary Beth Bowman

Thursday a week ago started out as an ordinary day for William Giles, owner of the Village Gallery, 12 DelFino Place. He drove his ten-year old Volkswagen to the post office then came back to work. He says he was feeling pretty good because his friends had thrown him a great 60th birthday party at the end of March. But the good feelings ended when Giles heard an explosion early Friday morning as he was working in his darkroom in the gallery offices.

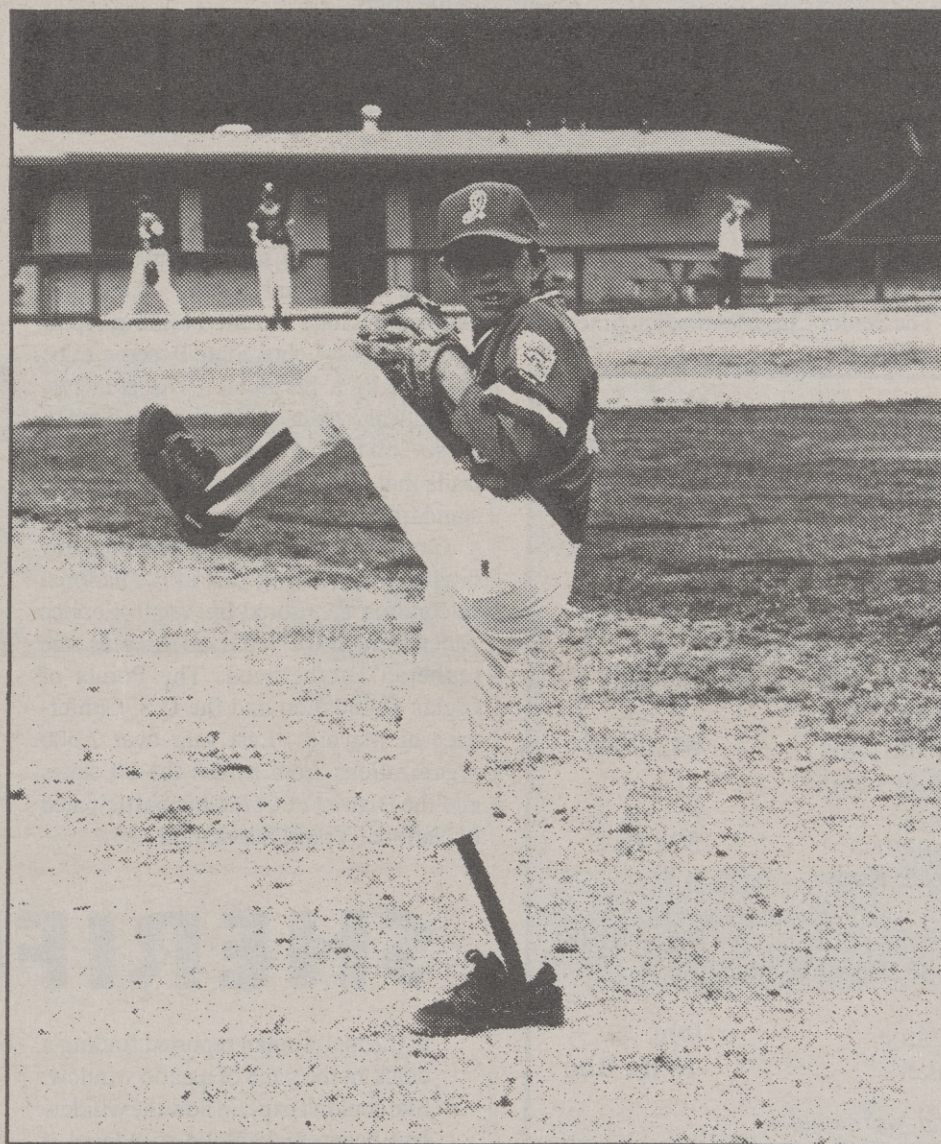

"I came outside and the sky was yellow...at first I thought it was Village Pizzeria on fire, but when I got to the parking lot, I realized 'My God, it's my car,'" Giles related a few days later. His sole source of transportation was burned beyond recognition. A few metal hinges remained on the top of the car to signify what was once a luggage carrier. Glass on the ground and metal melded onto the pavement attested to what the Carmel Valley Fire Department termed a "fully involved vehicle fire."

Capt. Jeffrey Frye noted in his fire investigation narrative report that the fire on Del Fino Place "threatened" the nearby businesses. Giles heartily commended the fire department's quick response to the blaze. "Within five minutes of my call to '911' there were four fire engines and at least a dozen firemen at the scene," Giles said.

But the quick response could not save Giles' car, which he had not insured for comprehensive coverage. "I'll get nothing for it," he noted. Giles' landlord and friend, Caroline Tugel of Valley Oaks Travel, expressed disbelief at the tragedy.

"Maybe we have been spoiled in Chapel holds women's breakfast

The Carmel Valley Community Chapel will host a Women's Spring Breakfast from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. on Saturday, April 16, in the Chapel's Fellowship Hall, Paso Hondo and Village Drive, Carmel Valley. The catered breakfast is $10. per person. Chapel women, their friends and neighbors are cordially invited to attend.

For more information about this group, please call Pastor Sandra Vassel Edwards at the Chapel, 659-2278.

Human bones found in Valley

Human bones were found on April 6, at a construction site adjacent to the Zen Center at the end of Tassajara Road, Carmel Valley. Initial examination of the bones yielded inconclusive results.

On April 7, Monterey County Sheriff Department Investigators, along with Gary Breschini, an Archaeologist and Physical Anthropologist, went to the Zen Center to examine and work on the site. They determined that the bones are most likely Native American Indian remains. Further testing will be done to confirm.

If test are conclusive, the Native American Heritage Commission will be notified by local authorities.

18,000 acre Rancho San Carlos preserve approved

18,000 acres of magnificent rolling hills and valleys at the northern end of the Santa Lucia Mountains in Monterey County will be protected as Santa Lucia Preserve by the proposed Santa Lucia Conservancy at Rancho San Carlos in Carmel. The Trust for Public Land, a national nonprofit land conservation organization, today announced that it will participate in the formation and guidance of the Conservancy that will, in conjunction with the Rancho San Carlos Partnership, preserve 90 percent of the Ranch's acreage through a limited development plan.

"The Trust for Public Land believes that Rancho San Carlos' conservancy-based limited development will create and establish land use mechanisms where conservation and preservation can successfully co-exist with and be funded by sensitive development of portions of the ranch," said Will Rogers, the Trust for Public Land's Western Regional Manager. "The protection, maintenance and restoration of wildlife habitat will be accomplished through the establishment of the Santa Lucia Conservancy. We hope that through our active involvement in the Conservancy's creation and management, we will help assure the success of the land

by Michelle Prejean

An especially nice treat in Spring is an herbal bath. If you've never tried one before, here's a simple recipe:

First, take several handfuls of herbs and flowers and put them in a medium-sized pot full of water. Simmer for twenty minutes. Second, strain out the liquid and pour it into a hot bath. Next, put the herbs and flowers into a washcloth and tie with a ribbon. Use this in the bath to gently scrub yourself. Soak yourself for at least twenty minutes.

Some good herbs and flowers to use are mint, lemon verbena, lavender and bay (these are refreshing), or sage, chamomile, strawberry leaves and roses (these are soothing). You can use virtually any herbs and flowers that you like. It is fun to experiment with different combinations. To add a special touch you could use native plants and flowers such as pearly everlasting, mug wort, heal all, wild lilac, and elder flowers.

So try an herbal bath for a relaxing and beautifying experience.

Michelle Prejean is a student at Carmel Valley High School.

Swimming scholarships available

The Carmel Valley Community Youth Center Pool now offers scholarships for swim lessons and pool passes for community residents who cannot afford to purchase them with their own funds.

Children and families who reside in zipcodes 93921, 93922, 93923 and 93924 and who meet the income guidelines for free and reduced school lunches are eligible. Families receiving food stamps, AFDC or FDPIR are automatically eligible, as are foster children or other wards of the court.

A limited number of full and partial scholarships are available; if you would like to apply or contribute to this program, please call Debi at CVCYC (659-3983) for more information. All donors will be publicly acknowledged, and those giving $250. or more will be named in a black anodized brass plaque mounted in a shadow box at the pool entrance.

Donations wanted for water slide at CV pool

The Carmel Valley Community Youth Center is looking to its larger community of supporters for help raising money to install a 90-foot corkscrew water slide at the pool in Carmel Valley Village this season.

The kickoff fund-raiser is the Human Race, sponsored by the Monterey County Volunteer Center on Saturday, May 7, at Monterey High School. If you can help collect pledges to walk or run on that day, or would like to contribute to this effort by pledging to the Human Race or making a contribution directly to CVCYC, call 659-3983.

All donors will be publicly acknowledged, and those contributing $500. or more will be named in an embossed 9" square terra cotta tile set in concrete at the approach or base of the slide.

Carmel High seniors plan community service program

Carmel High School, whose student council and staff promote an active community service program, will take part in National Youth Service Day 1994 on April 19.

The Senior Class, for the first time, will participate in this service day that will become an annual event. Activities planned include a trail building/repair effort at Point Lobos State Reserve to be followed by a barbecue. The students, working as a team, will move and distribute several tons of decomposed granite on trails that need to be brought up to safety standards.

Carmel High School is one of many organizations taking part in the national celebration sponsored by Youth Service America with the Jefferson Awards, the Lutheran Brotherhood, The Points of Lights Foundation and the U.S. Conference of Mayors. Last year over 2,500 organizations from across the 50 states and the District of Columbia participated in National Youth Service Day.

this part of the world, but we want to protest this (what appears to be vandalism)," she said. Tugel backed up her words by hanging a hand-written cardboard sign on the back of Giles' car that simply asks "WHY?"

Giles commented on the sign, saying that his question would be "Why here (in Carmel Valley)?" "I don't think I have an enemy around here," he said, adding, "I moved away from places like New York and L.A. to get away from all that nonsense."

The fire department's report is not conclusive. Capt. Frye stated that in his opinion, the fire started in the vehicle at or near the front seat and is of an "undetermined cause." Frye noted in his report that the car was unsecured with the side window down (the window did not roll up because of a mechanical problem). Frye concluded in his report that it is also "important to note that there is a recurring history of vandalism and theft in the area of Del Fino Place."

Carmel Valley firefighters wrapped barricade tape around the burnt shell of William Giles' 1980 Volkswagen after extinguishing flames that were 20 feet high, according to Giles. The blaze occurred early Friday morning in the parking lot at 12 Del Fino Place, directly in front of Village Pizzeria. The fire department report states the fire was of "an undetermined cause."

"What is safe anymore?" Giles questioned, as he looked at the charred remains of his car. He said he feels what happened is part of a juvenile prank. Tugel echoed his sentiments, saying "All of us are now concerned and (asking) 'Is my car at risk now?'"

VALLEY VIEWS

What do you think about the proposed culinary center/school idea in the village?

Steve Demayo

Mixologist; The Outrigger

Anything that would bring people in to support the local businesses would be good for the community. People from all over the country would come, bringing more exposure for Carmel Valley. I think it would do the Valley good.

Elsie Gemar

Student

I think it's a great idea, but I don't think it would work. This is a really small community to start a school. About ten years ago in Pacific Grove it was tried but it didn't last.

Jimmy Lyles

Waiter; Wills Fargo Restaurant

It sounds like a wonderful idea, being able to broaden one's education on that level. Even if not as a profession, it would give you a better idea what goes on in a restaurant.

Amy Lambert

Student

It would be interesting to try. It would advertise the village more, bringing in more tourists.

3-31 A Salinas man was stopped on Hwy 68 for DUI. The CHP arrived, took over, and arrested the man. After an argument with his girlfriend, a Carmel Highlands man called 911 and stated he was about to have a seizure. He refused medical help, so the deputy conducted a Welfare Check and had an ambulance (paramedic) evaluate the man at his home. The man remained home without further incident.

- A custodian of Tularcitos School in Carmel Valley reported that she heard possible fireworks going off in front of the school. When she investigated she saw three white male juveniles running toward the village.
- 4-1 A San Jose man reported his friend overdue from a hike at Molera State Park, Big Sur. Search was initiated by State Park Rangers, and was to begin at 6 a.m. on 4-2 if man had not returned.
- A Palo Colorado resident reported being physically abused by a white male adult after their vehicles lightly hit one another as they passed on Palo Colorado Road.

Committing political suicide...

That's what any member of congress will tell you is the fate of a politician who dares propose any kind of changes or reforms in that most-abused of all federal programs: Social Security.

The Senior Citizen Lobby - spearheaded by the largest senior citizens/ group in the nation, the American Association of Retired Persons - is the most powerful in America. Unfortunately, its zeal to protect Social Security, the AARP has become an extremist organization whose efforts are preventing many long-overdue and vitally necessary Social Security reforms.

One such reform, which any reasonable person should not only support, but demand, is an end to Social Security payments to the increasing number of alcoholics and drug addicts who turn right around and spend the money - your money and mine - on more liquor or heroin, cocaine and other illegal drugs. Under current Social Security law, these people - whose conditions are a direct result of their own irresponsible behavior - are entitled to claim, and receive, Social Security Disability payments.

A recent report by a United States Senator indicates that more than 250,000 alcoholics and drug addicts received a total of one billion, four hundred million dollars in disability checks last year. More, less than one third of these parasites are required to get substance abuse treatment, or have some presumably responsible second party receive the checks in their behalf.

Presumably responsible? Another disgrace. Some of these second parties, Senator Cohen reported, are themselves addicts, or liquor store owners, or bartenders, or other direct suppliers to the addicts of the very substances being abused.

What is needed - and badly needed - is an immediate overhaul of the Social Security Disability payment criteria, to disallow entitlement to any person who, of his or her own free will, and with utter disregard for common sense, becomes unable to work productively by consuming excessive quantities of alcohol, or becoming addicted to illegal drugs. If senior citizens, and their lobbies such as the AARP, don't wake up and begin to support and work for - rather than oppose - this type reform, it won't be long before the younger generations now being forced to pay six-to-twelve percent of their paychecks toward Social Security rebel. And perhaps demand, and get, even more drastic changes to the program which will hurt deserving recipients.

That's how it seems, from where I stand.

A bill for all families

Editor, Carmel Valley Sun,

The Domestic Partnership Registration Bill, introduced by Assemblyman Richard Katz (D-Los Angeles), promotes responsibility and security for committed but unmarried couples. The bill, known as AB 2810, will enable all committed couples in the State to register as "domestic partners" and assume certain responsibilities and limited benefits, provided they live together, share expenses, and meet other basic requirements. They'll have family visitation rights in the hospital, legal preference to administer each other's affairs should one partner become incapacitated, and the ability to use a standard legal form to will each other property. These basic humanitarian rights are currently denied to committed but unmarried couples, no matter how long-standing their relationship.

The 1990 U.S. Census showed almost 500,000 unmarried couple households in California. Thousands of them have children. The security and integrity of those families is at risk under the State's current legal code. Domestic partnership is no substitute for the full legal benefits of marriage, but in a medical crisis it will help.

Opponents of civil rights for lesbian and gay people may oppose this bill because it includes same-sex couples. But only the coldest of hearts would deny a couple, whether straight or gay, the right to care for each other in times of grave illness. It would be tragic if homophobia were allowed to derail a bill meant for all Californians.

The Secretary of State's Office projects that the bill will cost the State no more than $50,000, which may be recovered quickly from the registration fees that domestic partners would be required to pay. Clearly, it's time we recognize, support and protect all families.

Costly bureaucratic boondoggle

Editor, Carmel Valley Sun:

If the current reuse plan for Fort Ord (SB-899) is implemented it will be the most costly bureaucratic boondoggle ever perpetuated on our California taxpayers and environmentalists.

California Senate Bill 899 is about to be considered by the Assembly Ways and Means Committee. The State Senate has already passed the current Bill, 39-0. Another vote may be required if there are amendments.

The Army requires a single entity to accept Fort Ord property. SB-899 would establish such a joint powers authority or agency for this purpose. It would not, however, provide a solution for providing the millions of dollars needed by local governments to provide necessary services such as security, maintenance, water, sewage, disposal, roads, etc. and the protection of our environment.

If the disposal of the property were delayed, the Army is required to provide these services in a "Caretaker Status." It would then be possible to plan a fiscally responsible and environmentally protected reuse plan.

The defeat of SB-899 would delay the disposal of all properties except the parcels designated for CSU and UCSC.

A California Environmental Impact Report has not been provided by the Army as required by the State. If our State Legislature was influenced to require such a report, the Army by the force of public opinion would probably acquiesce. This would provide the needed delay in the disposal of property to CSU and UCSC.

Please phone and/or write, preferably both, immediately, to the members of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee asking for their opposition to SB-899. Also, contact all other members of the legislature and your friends also.

If it becomes necessary we should support by phone and letter the cities of Seaside and Marina in their fight against the current reuse plan.

Not the lone Quijote

Editor, Carmel Valley Sun:

This is, actually, a letter to your writer, Mel Vercoe, to assure him that he is not alone in his unenthusiasm for the CIA. No less an expert on American democracy, politics, history, etc., than Gore Vidal says that if he were elected President (!) the first thing he would do is abolish the CIA.

So, take heart, Mr. Vercoe. There are other Don Quijotes out there.

Yours truly,
Araby Colton

FUN IN THE SUN BY DAVE LYON

You know it's officially April in Carmel Valley when: (A) the tax man takes that big bite out of your annual salary; (B) Summer vacation plans take a big bite out of your savings account; or (C) your kid's Spring wardrobe needs take a big bite out of your monthly budget.

The answer is, of course (D) your Golden Retrievers take a big bite out of that 17-pound (hollow) chocolate Easter bunny. Dr. Petkus, phone home . . . I'm suffering from 3 out of 4 of these at my house, unless of course you count the fact that my dogs need new Spring clothes, in which case, make it 4 out of 4 . . .

Yes, Spring has sprung here in Paradise Valley, and the gang at your Carmel Valley Community Youth Center has an excellent selection of exciting Spring and early Summer activities in which to get involved!

LET'S TALK POOL! (With a capital P and that rhymes with D and that stands for Di!) The Carmel Valley Community Pool and Country Club will be open now all weekends through June 12th from noon until 5 p.m. for your swimming and sunning pleasure. The pool will also be open for Rec swimming on Monday, Memorial Day, the 30th of May. Bring the family, bring a picnic or barbecue to the park that day, then enjoy the afternoon relaxing pool-side! The Summer swim season officially begins June 18th, after which the pool will be open each and every weekday from noon to 5 p.m., and on weekend days from noon until 7 in the evening.

FAMILY SWIMNIGHTS at the Community pool will be Fridays, all summer long, from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. Water

REAL ESTATE BY RAND SMITH

"Carpe diem!" a great Roman once said, "Seize the day."

Ever notice how history has a way of happening before our eyes, but it's not until it becomes history that we realize the significance of the event? That's what today's would-be home buyers realize in the near future.

With the current listing inventory at approximately 3000 single family homes and the ratio of new listings to sales at over 2 to 1, there is plenty to choose from. Add to that the fact that many of the homes currently listed for sale have been on the market for over six months, interest rates remain at the moment for 20-year lows, it's not hard to see that the time to move is at hand.

I find it unbelievable when I hear from people that it's a bad market. Yes, prices are extremely low and have continued to decline in the last three months. Any seller who does not "need to move" won't, because they are unwilling to be realistic about their price. In this real estate climate, however, if you want to move up, or you are a first time buyer, or you are able to keep your home as a rental and buy without having to sell, there's a hurricane of opportunity!

One client had moved in with a family member for six months to save money for a down payment. When the relative decided to move, he was ready to buy. He called me up on New Year's Day, and we found a house that day.

Another buyer had received a lump sum payment from an insurance settlement and used it as his down payment. One client had relocated here a year ago, and has been "looking" for nearly six months. She was in contract on another property, but the seller was unwilling to make the required repairs. That contract was rescinded and she found a great home.

We sold a wonderful Marina property for $182,000 to a vet who needed only $5,500 cash close! Another vet bought a home with less than $2000 total cash. Another buyer had been relocated with the state and when his home in Fresno finally sold, he found exactly what he

by John Saar, Broker

THOSE RADON BLUES

Radon gas can be a worry for homeowners. This naturally occurring substance has been found in homes throughout the country. It is odorless, colorless and undetectable without sophisticated testing. Radon has been linked to lung cancer, and environmental experts caution that it should not be taken lightly. Remember that if radon gas is detected, it can usually be removed at a relatively low cost with simple ventilation systems.

If you are concerned about radon in your home, you can have it tested. You can contact your nearest branch of the Environmental Protection Agency for information about how to find a reputable company qualified to perform the tests. If you are buying a new home in an area where radon has been a problem, you might consider including a radon test as part of the structural contingency clause. And if you are planning to sell your home, you can test it for radon before placing it on the market. If there is no problem, your fears will be put to rest, and even if radon is detected, you will be able to deal with it before it becomes an issue in a purchase negotiation.

wanted, a condo with a detached garage for 10 percent down.

One home that had been on the market for three months was finally priced aggressively at $115,000 due to a divorce. It attracted a buyer who had sold their house six months ago, and rented while they waited for the right opportunity to use their $50,000 down payment.

We listed a home in Seaside that had seller financing which required no down payment at all. We sold it in less than a week, with two competing offers!

The biggest concern that potential buyers seem to face is a fear that prices may still go down tomorrow. The greatest hope many sellers have is that prices will start going back in the near future. The fact is, there are some real success stories happening today.

conservation agenda at Rancho San Carlos while helping to refine this limited development model for use with other large land holdings facing the prospect of traditional development."

In addition to setting aside 18,000 acres for preservation, the Santa Lucia Preserve will include carefully located sites for 300 residents, 50 homes for preserve employees, a 150-room lodge, community services, and appropriately sited areas for recreation on the balance of 2,000 acres of land.

"The Conservancy's challenging conservation mission and its proposed long-term endowment are what distinguishes the Rancho San Carlos project from a more typical development model involving a land dedication with a conservation easement in return for entitlements," Rogers added.

He emphasized that the Trust is not in the business of developing or supporting the development of open space. The Trust, established in 1972 and headquartered in San Francisco, is dedicated to conserving land for people to enjoy as parks, community gardens, recreational areas and wilderness lands.

"The Trust, however, does support the concept and role of the Preserve and the Conservancy," said Rogers, "as an innovative and viable alternative to public open space protection. We recognize the inadequacy of public funding for acquisitions and stewardship of this country's important open spaces and the critical need not only to increase that funding, but to identify other effective land conservation alternative."
